General

To ensure all staff, children, parents/carers and Governors are aware of the aims for Learning and Teaching at St Mary's and that these are consistently applied in order to:

- Promote high quality teaching and learning across the school;
- Raise standards by ensuring consistency and continuity of teaching and learning;
- Ensure all children are included, motivated and engaged by their learning;

Introduction

Learning and teaching are the key functions of our School. We work towards the aims of the School through providing high quality learning experiences within all we do; in the discreet and hidden curriculum, in the School environment and the interactions between all members of the School community. We believe that we teach the children through all that we do: through the implementation of the policies, systems and practice that determines the curriculum and school day; learning and teaching should not just be seen as an isolated activity that just happens in a classroom.

We believe that:

1. Learning should be a rewarding and enjoyable experience for everyone i.e. learning should be fun and enable children to make expected or accelerated progress;
2. Teaching needs to equip children with the skills, knowledge and understanding necessary in order that they can play an increasingly useful and positive role in society and make informed choices about their lives both now and in the future;
3. High quality teaching and learning experiences support children to be able to lead happy and rewarding lives, now and in the future;
4. High expectations of learning behaviours are evident through explicit teacher modelling.

Implementation of the Learning and Teaching Policy

A. What is 'good learning'?

At St. Mary's we believe that children learn best when;

- They are encouraged to form positive relationships with their teacher, peers and other members of the school community;
- They have clear direction and are praised for all the good things that they do;
- They are actively involved in their learning at an appropriate level to match their learning needs;
- They are encouraged to become increasingly autonomous learners;
- They are appropriately challenged with learning experiences which are relevant to their lives and interests and are inspiring, motivating and engaging;
- They are working in an environment which is safe, caring, supportive and stimulating;
- Their learning is well structured and delivered;
- Their learning is effectively differentiated;
- Their learning addresses appropriate and pertinent aspects of the children's future development both within overarching and explicit provision;
- Their learning encompasses the values and skills of the school in aiding the development as future effective citizens;
- Their learning enables appropriate and pertinent aspects of personal, social, moral, spiritual, cultural and emotional development within the Catholic ethos of the school

Positive relationships

- Children know the word SLANT to enable good quality listening and speaking- T is track the teacher/ partner with your eyes and body/ track the sentence in the book with a ruler/ finger. Children are explicitly told to look at the teacher or their partner as part of the tracking/ good quality listening and speaking process.

- Children and adults demonstrate mutual respect;
- Children and adults developing a good rapport with one another;
- Children demonstrating respect and consideration for themselves and others modelling the values and skills of the school at all times;

Active Learning/ Talk for learning

- Children will sit in tables of four to facilitate good quality paired talk, but will work in twos/ pairs.
- Children talk in pairs: face partners and shoulder partners or pairs across a corner of a table. (when a child is absent/ or there are odd numbers a Teaching assistant will take a place, or the children will go into threes.)
- Face to face for talking, shoulder to shoulder for reading and across a corner for writing.
- Children will sit in mixed ability pairs (ability pairs will not be too wide).
- Echo/ repeat: will be used for pairs to repeat their partner's sentence/ information/ word. This is for children to know.
- When summarising: children and adults start by using the phrase: 'so basically'. This is to enable children to understand. This will be shown in shared modelled reading particularly.
- In a lesson Left hand pages in books are used for children to demonstrate the learning journey/ evidence from paired talk/ planning/ reading. The right- hand sides of pages are for children to show applications of learning.
- To include planned and structured opportunities for pupils to listen and talk, summarise in pairs, their partner's contributions and develop what their partner has said. This will enable knowledge to embed their learning, sequence it: to recall, remember and apply it over time.

- Clear and simple, sequenced planning format common to the majority of lessons using quality teacher input: ie accurate and engaging information, clear verbal presentation, consistent approach.
- takes children's prior learning and current assessment into account and are appropriately differentiated in order that the lessons consolidate, build upon and extend learning for all children;
- Senior leaders develop clear and consistent structures and systems for all aspects of curriculum planning using the Lancashire Curriculum Plans, Come and See for RE, language Angels for French, White Rose for Maths and Ten Ten for RSHE.
- Planning follows the current school planning formats
- All planning is suitably differentiated for all learners with clear learning and steps to success in language the children will understand;
- Planning identifies a range of engaging activities to develop children's skills, knowledge and understanding;
- Planning explicitly notes appropriate subject specific language/ stem sentences and key resources;
- Planning details resources to be used which support learning, including the strategic deployment of any other adults;
- Planning shows that the teacher has been reflective and assessed the children's work, annotating this to indicate potential next steps in the children's learning which will directly move the learning on;

Behaviour for Learning

- Children will be reminded of the SLANT and STEPS expectations and the route for resilience character muscles and how it can be applied in their lessons and invited to discuss this.
- Senior leaders develop clear and consistent structures and systems to identify expectations for both learning and social behaviours;

- Teachers and other adults maintain positive relationships with the children without underestimating the need for good behaviour;
- Lessons are well paced, interesting and match the children’s learning needs so that all children are encouraged to display good learning behaviours;
- Teachers and other adults consistently but sensitively use the School’s Behaviour Policy in order that all children know what is expected of them, can learn and socialise appropriately and understand the difference between right and wrong and that there are consequences to their actions;
- Children are praised and rewarded for the good things that they do and sanctioned if they do not do the right thing. (see positive behaviour policy and posters around school.)

Assessment

- Hot and cold tasks will be used in core subjects to aid quality planning and assessment.
- Children’s work is regularly, diagnostically assessed; verbally or in written form, clearly stating what their next steps in their learning are, according to the marking policy;
- Good work is rewarded with house points, verbal praise, stickers, class dojos depending on the age and stage of the child;
- Teachers and children; and teachers and senior leaders, have regular discussions about the children’s work which affect provision and support arising from this within the accountability process;
- Children and teachers use a variety of accurate, timely and regular assessment strategies in order to assess children’s work in relation to the lesson’s learning;
- Work is moderated frequently to ensure that judgements based on the Curriculum Descriptors/ STACMAT statements are accurate;
- Teachers have a secure understanding of progression within each core subject (RE, English, Mathematics, Science and ICT); including what skills, knowledge and understanding need to be demonstrated for a child to aim to achieve at National Standard and what the next steps for that child are in order that they make progress in their learning, or where to find this information for all curriculum subjects.
- Standardised testing from NFER/ SATS/ Phonics screening is used according to the current assessment schedule and supplements the judgements made by the teacher
- The Senco may use existing and additional assessment as appropriate, seeking advice from external partners where appropriate.

Secure subject and pedagogical knowledge

- Teachers have a good knowledge of each subject that they are teaching and an understanding of progression of learning in that subject;
- Teachers engage children throughout the lesson by providing clear and concise explanations and expectations, a good balance of challenging and appropriate activities, questions and discussion points and opportunities to assess what has been learnt and develop considered accurate responses to the next steps in their study or learning;

- v. Parents/carers, children and a member of School staff all sign a Home/School agreement in order to establish the roles, rights and responsibilities of all members of the School community.

Lesson organisation;

- Outcomes of Talk activities will often be recorded on the left- hand side, whilst final individual, paired or group outcomes will be recorded on the right hand side of the page. This might be over 1 or 2 lessons for English and RE.
- Lessons are well structured to include appropriate time for an introduction, independent or collaborative tasks and for a plenary or series of mini-plenaries with ample opportunity for teacher/child interaction, in order to discuss, enhance, reflect and further develop the children's learning;
- Teachers provide clear direction to ensure children know what they are doing and how to do it including the modelling and demonstration of key elements within lessons, working with a guided focus group when appropriate using the day-to-day assessment of the children's progress.
- Teachers apply the most appropriate classroom organisation, both in terms of the physical environment and also how the children are organised, in order to match and contextualise the children's learning;
- Opportunities are available for children to engage in practical activities, investigations and problem solving;
- Teachers provide opportunities for children to practice and reinforce skills learnt and appropriate extension and challenge activities;
- Teachers use appropriate resources, including the use of ICT to support and extend children's learning;
- Resources are clearly labelled, the children can access them and use them with increasing independence;
- Teaching Assistants are well deployed, optimising all learning opportunities and throughout their conduct in school set high expectations of themselves and the children.

Resources

- Teachers ensure that each classroom has a basic set of age and ability appropriate resources;
- Subject or aspect leaders ensure that specialist resources are stored, maintained and audited in designated areas;
- Children are taught how to use resources correctly and safely and also to respect and maintain equipment;
- Care is taken that resources reflect the cultural and linguistic diversity of the school and that all children have equal opportunities to use these resources;
- Resources used are appropriate to the task and age of children in supporting and engaging them with their learning;
- Other adults are deployed effectively to work with individual children or small groups of children both within the classroom and in intervention activities to maximise learning opportunities.

Resources Non-Negotiables

- Use the Lancashire Curriculum Plan for medium term planning. These may be added to as appropriate. Any change of topic needs to be agreed in advance with SLT.
- Use the agreed phonics resources (ALS), however the structure and planning have been adapted to meet the needs of the children

- Use the agreed spelling programme for the Year Group.
- Use the resources from Ten Ten/ Language Angels and White Rose.

Technology

- Senior leaders, at all levels, and teachers use the School's electronic assessment system of Target Tracker to record and monitor children's progress against the targets set at the beginning of the year and affect provision accordingly;
- Teachers increasingly use a wide range of technology to support, enhance and engage children in their learning and encourage and support children to use these resources increasingly independently.

Questioning

- Teachers ask a range of questions (comprehension, knowledge, application, analysis, synthesis and evaluation) to children in order to check understanding and move their learning forward; and increasingly expect the children to ask such questions themselves using the appropriate language.

Reflection

Senior leaders, at all levels, and all staff are aware of the need to be both reflective and proactive in developing both the School and themselves in order to develop and sustain effective provision and practice. This is exemplified through effective and robust School systems and structures within the accountability process including:

- a. School self-evaluation practices;
- b. The Performance Management Cycle;
- c. Bespoke whole, group or individual staff Continuing Professional Development
- d. The School's meetings cycle; including Governors, Senior Leaders, teaching staff, phase group, and teaching assistants.
- e. Informal support from colleagues at a variety of levels.

Learning Environment Non-Negotiables

- Safe, ordered and calm
- Support for children on display
- Displays in the classroom focus on learning while in the corridors and communal areas celebrate children's work
- Resources should be clearly labelled
- Resources such as dictionaries and thesaurus should be available for children to access independently
- RE display should include Driver Words
- RE table should follow the liturgical colour and include an area for bible, prayer and reflection,
- A wide range of assessment strategies are used by both the children and the teacher in order to ascertain progress made and assessed in line with the National standard from the assessment performance descriptors for Reading, Writing and Mathematics;
- Evidence of positive relationships between children, their teacher and the other adults in the room; everyone displaying good social and learning behaviours.

Assessment, Record Keeping and Reporting (please refer to the School's Assessment and Marking Policy)

- a) Assessment opportunities are central to the planning and organisation of each lesson. Key elements of this are:
 - Recap of previous knowledge at the start of lessons;
 - Adult observation of children's responses to questions;
 - Adult observation of children on task;

- Use of steps to success / target steps against learning;
 - Continuous feedback throughout the lesson;
 - Self and peer assessment;
 - Plenary activities;
 - Marking linked to learning and steps to success and giving indicators for improvement of work.
- b) It is an important aspect of our assessment that children are encouraged to be honest in their self-assessment. Children indicating they have not understood features of a lesson will be given additional support.

Assessment Non-Negotiables

- Work is marked according to the current assessment and marking policy
- Targets to be updated at least every half term
- Summative assessment to supplement the teacher's judgements
- Results to be put on Target Tracker by the date given
- Teachers should come prepared for Pupil Progress Meetings using the template for pupil progress meetings.

Inclusion (please refer also to the School's Inclusion Policy)

Monitoring and Review

- The Head teacher, Deputy Head Teacher and Senior Leadership team will monitor the effectiveness of this policy throughout the academic year. The Head teacher and assigned Link Governor will report to the governing body on the effectiveness of the policy annually and, if necessary, makes recommendations for further improvements.

What is a good lesson?

- Planning – Before the lesson
- Introduction to the lesson
- Main teaching
- Group teaching and independent activities
- End of the lesson; plenaries and/or mini plenaries within the lesson
- Use of assessment and evaluation – before, during and after the lesson.

Planning- Before the lesson teachers will:

- Use formal and on-going assessments in order to determine where the children are in their learning and their next steps, this will be through cold and hot tasks- so progress can be easily recorded;
- Establish a clear learning goal ' I am learning to/about' in 'child friendly' language arising from this assessment, the steps to success that will enable the children to achieve the learning and opportunities for both children and the teacher to assess progress against these; show the stem sentences/ key vocabulary for the lesson.
- Establish an initial 'hook' that will motivate and engage the children;
- Contextualise the learning either by making it relevant to the lives and/or interests of the children, and where appropriate making cross curricular links
- Plan an appropriate structure of differentiated activities that will enable the children to engage in their learning and meet the learning; including the use of other adults and the timings of the lesson; ensuring maximum learning opportunities and catering for all learning styles.

Introduction to the lesson – A good introduction to a lesson will include:

- Recapping on prior learning, allowing time for the children to look at their feedback from the previous lesson; this may include time to refer and respond to marking- editing and redrafting.

- Sharing the learning with the children and referring to at different stages throughout the lesson to keep learning focussed; (There may be circumstances when the 'I am learning to/about' is developed later in the lesson e.g. arising from an investigative activity.)
- Sharing the learning goal and lesson's steps to success with the children so that they know exactly what they need to do in order to achieve the learning and where appropriate enabling the children to develop own steps to success through clear modelling;
- Vocabulary: is explicitly taught at the beginning of each lessons: displayed and children are given time to assimilate this and expected to use it correctly, this can be through echo-pair share activities;
- Introducing subject specific language which is modelled by the teacher during the session with an expectation that the children will use the vocabulary in their verbal and written responses;
- Putting the learning into context; explaining to the children why they are learning what they are learning;
- Using appropriate resources, including ICT and other adults, in order to support children's learning;
- Ensuring there is a good balance between teacher and child talk and that all children are actively involved, engaged and challenged in meaningful activities;
- A wide range of assessment strategies are used by both the children and the teacher in order to ascertain progress made and assessed in line with the National standard from the assessment performance descriptors for Reading, Writing and Mathematics; these may be used from the STACMAT statements used in our Academy.
- Evidence of positive relationships between children, their teacher and the other adults in the room; everyone displaying good social and learning behaviours.

- Appropriately differentiated questioning;
- Good pace to the lesson; ensuring that it is not too quick that children are not understanding their work and are being left behind; but pacy enough that children remain engaged;
- Secure subject knowledge demonstrated by the class teacher;
- All children actively involved and engaged in their learning;
- High expectations of children both in terms of their work and their learning and social behaviours;
- Praise for the children when they do the right thing, achieve well and make progress;
- A wide range of assessment strategies which are used by both the children and the teacher;

Group teaching and independent activities – This part of the lesson will include:

- Differentiated activities through prescribed outcome, support, resources, etc which match the learning and steps to success;
- Opportunities provided for the children to talk about learning, experimenting with concepts, asking questions and learning in preferred learning style;
- The teacher normally teaching a focus group; moving that group's learning forward and maximising all opportunities for learning;
- Effective use of other adults both class based LSAs, in order to support learning and/or move it forward;
- Mini plenaries, where appropriate, to either move learning on, consolidate learning or address misconceptions;

 - Consolidation on the lesson's learning, reflecting on whether the steps to success have been achieved, moving learning forward, addressing misconceptions, further peer or teacher modelling of work, making links to future learning.
- RE lessons should begin and end with period of reflection or prayer as appropriate. See separate RE Good and Outstanding lesson
 - Mathematics lessons will include fluency, problem solving and reasoning activities for all children each lesson, from planning on the learning journeys. Children will write the Learning journey number and key phrase and date.
